Note that these figures do not represent a Pruvit Promoter's profit, as they do not consider profits earned from in-person retail sales or expenses incurred by a Promoter in operation or promotion of his/her business. The figures above refer to gross income (total income before any expenses are deducted). The expenses a Promoter incurs in the operation of his or her Pruvit business vary widely. Expenses for Promoters can be several hundred or thousand dollars annually, a recently conducted survey revealed that 52.27% of Promoters spent between $37 to $1000 annually. You should factor in estimated expenses when projecting potential profits. Such operating expenses could include advertising and promotional expenses, product samples, training, travel, telephone and Internet costs, business equipment, and miscellaneous expenses. The earnings of the Promoters in this disclosure are not necessarily representative of the income, if any, that a Promoter can or will earn through his or her participation in the Pruvit Rewards Program. These figures should not be considered as guarantees or projections of your actual earnings or profits. Any representation or guarantee of earnings would be misleading. Success with Pruvit results only from successful sales efforts, which require hard work, diligence, leadership. A recently conducted survey showed that, on average, Promoters spent 16 hours a week growing their business. Your success will depend upon how effectively you exercise these qualities. For more information about how to earn income, review the Pruvit Policies, Procedures & Rewards Program.
